

I think that vrs providers should not be able to force their customers to only use one provider. I can pick up my phone and choose to use whatever provider I want and my right to choose is not infringed upon by anyone.